

SABA ZAHARA HONEYBUSH

Saba Zahara HoneyBush holds an MBA in Social Entrepreneurship and is pursuing a second Masters in Integrative Eco-Social Design. She is a communications specialist working across digital policy, culture, arts and social impact. Contributing to arts governance at the Artscape Theatre Centre/VACSA through advancing inclusive, community-driven sustainable development locally and globally such as attending the 19th session of the Expert Mechanism on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (EMRIP) in Geneva, Switzerland.

Janet Askew

Janet Askew (BA, LL.B) is a HR and governance specialist with extensive NGO leadership experience. She advises boards on labour law compliance, organisational culture, and ethical governance, supporting values-driven organisations in building fair, accountable and sustainable practices across South Africa.

Ingrid Roomes

Ingrid holds a Honours degree in Medicinal Chemistry, specialises in finance and business management, and has a passion for birding and conserving indigenous flora.

She is an enthusiastic volunteer, who regularly participates in hacking and is the treasurer for the Trails Club of South Africa.

Ingrid has a love for Kirstenbosch, and embraces the opportunity to support the society.